

Daphne Jackson Fellowship Opportunity at the University of York

Applications are invited for a Daphne Jackson Fellowship that will be hosted by the University of York. The Fellowship is intended for individuals returning to research in any field of Science, Technology, Engineering or Mathematics (STEM) that is aligned to the University's Research Strategy.

The University of York will host and half sponsor the Fellowship. The remaining funding will be secured by the Daphne Jackson Trust from an additional sponsor.

Being an international, research-led University relies on equality in participation, progression and success for all. The University of York strives to create a working, learning, social and living environment that enables all staff and students to achieve their potential. The University of York's aspirations are articulated in their Equality Diversity and Inclusion Strategy.

The University of York is proud to have held an institutional Athena SWAN award for more than 10 years and multiple departmental awards, including gold in Biology and Chemistry, reflecting its ongoing commitment to increasing gender equality across all aspects of university work and life.

Daphne Jackson Fellowships

The Daphne Jackson Trust is dedicated to returning scientists, technologists, engineers and mathematicians to their careers following a break taken for family, caring or health reasons.

Daphne Jackson Fellowships are unique - They offer STEM professionals wishing to return to a research career after a break of two or more years, the opportunity to balance an individually tailored retraining programme with a challenging research project in a suitably supportive environment.

The Fellowship consists of a challenging research project and at least 100 hours retraining per year. The unparalleled support offered by the Trust's Fellowship Advisors and administrative staff, coupled with mentoring and retraining provided during the Fellowship, give returners the confidence and skills they need to successfully return to research.
